City Councils.

These bodies held their final meeting prior to the summer adjournment yesterday after-

The session was pleasant, even to jollity.

Most of the members had bought their tickets for the places to which they propose to resort for the summer solstice. There was not a large lobby attendance; the gentuses in grotesque costome who go to Smith's Island, as the millionaire does to Newport or the Delaware Water Gap, are new "out of town." One principal attendant in the lobby, a gentleman who were a shirt collar in 1851, and has kept it ever since, has departed for Point Airy. His

From the Messrs, Cramp, contractors of the From the Messrs. Cramp, contractors of the new city ice boat, calling respectful attention of the body to the fact that the trustees of the department had failed to make the payment of $25,000 due to the Messrs. Cramp on July I. The remonstrance is couched in respectful but carnest terms. They built the fee boat ordered last year. They had nothing to do withd the machinery. They now arge that if it prove a failure they are not censurable therefor, and risk that their just dues be not withheld, and that they may have the means to proceed with their contract—this time in their hands alone—for the construction of an iron ice boat that shall keep open the river during the comthat shall keep open the river during the com-ing winter. The amount appropriated for the purpose is $100,000 upon these terms: $25,000 upon the signing of the contract; $17,000 on upon the signing of the contract; $17,000 on September 1, and $70,000 in October, November, and December, when the vessel is to be deliv-ered completed. Mr. Hodgdon, of the Committee on Water, reported an ordinance authorizing the laying of water pipe in several quarters of the city. It was adopted.

It was adopted.

Mr. Cattell, of the Committee on Girard Estate, offered an ordinance to increase the revenue of the estate by making alterations in the building No. 132 South Third street, so as to convert what now is simply a building adapted for a private dwelling to the purposes of its occupants, who are the publishers of a morning newspaper. The sum required being but five thousand

The same required being but ave thousand dollars, the bill passed.

A resolution was reported by the chairman of the Committee on City Property to lease Hunting Park mansion to a party who would take care of the grounds in lieu of rental for the premises.

This gave rise to a wide debate. This gave rise to a wide debate.

Mr. Smith was decidedly in-favor of the resolution. This park was given fifteen years ago to Philadelphia, by public-splitted citizens, on condition that it should be kept in decent order. This condition has never been com-

Its passage was objected to by Mr. King and others of the Democrats.

Colonel Page favored the passage of this bill.

He said that he represented the people, and not a mere party, and that the extension of the park was a matter of valid interest to every man, woman, and child in Philauelphia.

[This bill was introduced because of a certainty that the omnibus loan bill of six million dollars, covering the cost of the new city ice boat, the purchase of League Island, etc., could not pass. It was in cessary to pass this part of the appropriation, because the owners of the

Mr. Marcus offered a preamble and resolutions to repeal certain resolutions militating against the bridging of the Schuylkill at South street, passed some time ago by Councils. Mr.
Marcus argued that the pill was a bitter one to swallow, but inasunch as the Supreme Court had decided that the legislation in the matter was constitutional, it behooved Councils to acquiesce and to counsel the Mayor, chief engineer and surveyor, and the president of each chamber of Councils to act as members of the commission, as originally proposed.
Mr. Smith acquiesced in this view of the matter and spoke to it not only oilily but Mr. Marcus offered a preamble and resolunatter, and spoke to it not only oilily but

The matter was then agreed to.

An ordinance to remove serious obstacles to navigation in the Schuylkill was adopted.

Common Council business now came up.

The bill to pay $100,000 for the ground taken from its owners for the extension of Fairmount park, and for its conversion from a pig pasture to an Eden, was taken up.

Mr. king inveighed vehemently against the proposed appropriation, denomining it as a piece of anywarrantable extravagance.

Mr. Erapsigness demonstrated very anietly.

piece of unwarrantable extravegance,

Mr. Franciscus demonstrated, very quietly, that the city in its sovereign capacity had dispossessed owners of their property. It had closed the doors of workshops and factories by arbitrary process. It was nothing more than just that these parties should now be indemnified for the deprivation of their rights.
It behooves a city to be at least honest. A city that is not so as much degrades itself as city that is not so as much degrades itself as only that is not so as inner degrades itself as an individual.

Mr. Cox seconded this view. He claimed that Mr. King was under the harrow, and was doing what he did at the whip and spur of his party. Mr. King, he said, had party motives in trying to retard the improvement of the park until after next October.

PRIZES OBTAINED BY PHILADELPHIANS AT THE SCHUETZENFEST,—The Philadelphians who participated in the Third National Schuetzenfest have returned to the city, a number bringing with them the prizes awarded them for good shooting. Mr. Francis Audibert, who was No 22 on the list, secured as his prize a house mantel clock, representing the historian Tacitus in deep study. The clock cost the donor $300. Others, who had the privilege of selecting prizes before Mr. Audibert, took $100 greenbacks in preference to the clock. There were selected among the best shots ten so-called Schnetzen Meister, or Masters of Sharpshooters, n the order of the number of bull's eyes they ucceeded in hitting. D. F. Kolb, of this city, stood first on the list, having hit the buil's-eve 111, and H. D. Justi, also of Philadelphia, the second; his score amounted to 105. The following prizes were also obtained by Philadelphians; -G. F. Berkman, watch and chain; Baithaser Lager, watch and chain; George Gocke, silver cup; H. D. Justi, $70 in currency; G. F. Kelly, oil painting; Charles Parbs, $50 currency; Anten Winters, meetschaum pipe and tobacco.
